AMATA FESTIVAL

PERFORMANCE, TALKS & EVENTS

26 MAY - 5 JUNE

FALMOUTH
UNIVERSITY

WELCOME TO THE 2015 AMATA FESTIVAL

AMATA Festival celebrates the achievements of graduating students from across our programmes in Dance, Theatre, Music and Cultural Management & Production, and provides an intensive, public and professionalised context through which to enjoy and engage with their work.

Falmouth University's Academy of Music and Theatre Arts is developing a reputation for interdisciplinary invention, social engagement and the making of new and challenging work.

I know that this year's festival programme bears testament to these qualities – qualities that are vitally important in the current social and economic climate.

As ever, our students have taken on the challenges and opportunities an education with us provides, with the same energy, intelligence and courage that is manifest in their work, and for this the University is immensely proud.

I have little doubt, based on the experience of our five years here in Cornwall, that these artists, having now completed a degree education more progressive and interrogative than most, are very well placed to make increasingly meaningful and significant contributions to shaping the future of their respective fields of practice.

I'd like to thank all who have been involved in developing and realising this festival, which has, as is traditional, been a student-led initiative, and I encourage all who attend to see as much work as possible, and to join us in celebrating our students achievements and another significant milestone in our recent history.

2 DANCE COMPANY

Fleur Giles	Jennie Butcher
Kimberley Eade	Gina Nicholls
Katy Lewis	Angus Capel
Josh Clist	Alara Vural
Hannah Emes

2 Dance Company presents a double bill exploring different personas in performance.

Three-Faced

A performance exploring personality, identity and human relationships and the ways in which this can be expressed through different elements of performance. Working closely with the atmosphere provided by musical changes this piece challenges the performers to work outside of their preferred movement quality.

Personnage

Making use of a Parisian backdrop, this piece explores the relationships between different personas drawing on elements of contemporary dance and physical theatre.

HYDROPHYTIC AT THE POINT OF FALLING

'Unlike a drop of water which loses its identity when it joins the ocean, man does not lose his being in the society in which he lives. Man's life is independent. He is born not for the development of the society alone, but for the development of his self.' B. R. AMBEDKAR

This world explores the narrative between discovering water in a place that is unfamiliar. We assert the notion of language without words, finding something new through play and our bodies. This piece hopes to show the nature of change is always in the present. A conscious effort to care for each other and ourselves by using waters healing, regenerating and rituality.

COMPOUND DANCE PURITY(AMBIGUITY)

Lucy Battershill	Alice Briggs
Chloe Greer	Melanie Kerr
Alice Smith	Imogen Starr

Is it possible to arrive at one true definition of purity?

Yes or no?

Compound Dance says no.

Throughout their first full-length work, purity(ambiguity) the company deconstructs this concept revealing its ambiguous nature. As individuals, our own understanding of purity differs; this piece seeks to convey and articulate those multiple definitions.

However, one question still remains; in our purest form, are we all the same?

WILD TANGENT THEATRE

Jenny Herron Jodie Merrifield
Matt Mills Phil C-w (Collaborator)

What our piece is, fundamentally, is an audience-interactive, 'game', installation. We are working with the idea of engaging with an audience in such a way that they become a part of the performance, and pushing them by making their actions matter in terms of the narrative. Based in modern-times, we create a legal office around them, using set design and soundscapes, with created characters to portray a story of 'office politics'. The ending is completely down to how the audience reacts, behaves, and chooses. We intend the piece to have elements of humour, in a satirical manner, but at the same time thought-provoking and meaningful.

AN AUDIENCE WITH DARCUS BEESE

Darcus Beese, OBE is the President of Island Records and an Honorary Fellow in Music at Falmouth University. Often described as the teaboy who became the President, Darcus began his career under the auspices of Island Records founder Chris Blackwell. He has been responsible for some of Island's major signings including Amy Winehouse, Mumford & Sons, Florence + The Machine and former Falmouth University student Ben Howard.

Despite being one of the youngest Presidents of a major label in the UK Darcus is reminiscent of an earlier age in the recorded music industry, one where entrepreneurial music lovers owned and ran the often haphazard and pioneering labels that shaped the industry in the pre-digital age.

Darcus will be in conversation with Falmouth's Music Business Champion, Rick Rogers and there will be an open Q+A session to follow.

Studio K 4.30pm

ISLAND RECORDS/SPINNUP A+R SHOWCASE

Falmouth University music students have entered tracks into an exclusive A+R competition through the SPINNUP platform that Island Records are forefronting in the UK. From those entries the Island A+R team have chosen the acts to appear on this showcase. Come and see the winning acts.

This showcase will be attended by Island A+R representatives.
