

SEPTEMBER 2024 TALENT AWARDS TERMS & CONDITIONS

Falmouth University is offering 30 scholarships of £3,000 each to its most talented undergraduate and postgraduate students who will be starting their first year of study with us in September 2024.

A limited number of £3,000 scholarships, called International Talent Awards will be available. These scholarships will be deductible from Year 1 fees (second instalment).

amount: £3,000

Who it's for: International offer holders paying international fees applying for a full-time on-campus taught Bachelors or Masters course, demonstrating exceptional talent.

The following £3,000 awards are available:

- 20 x undergraduate scholarships
- 10 x postgraduate scholarships

Please note students can only receive one scholarship each. The sum will be applied by the University as a credit towards the second instalment of the student's tuition fees. It will be deducted from the total remaining fees payable.

To be eligible for the International Talent Awards you will:

- Qualify for the International fee rate (it therefore does not include EU students with settled status or UK students living outside the UK)
- Be new to Falmouth University in 2024/25
- 2023/2024 deferred offer holders will also be considered for the scholarship
- Be entering directly into the first year of the course
- Hold an offer for a full-time on-campus Bachelors or Masters course (not online), starting in September 2024
- Have received an offer by 12th April 2024 at 23:59 BST
- Have sent in their supporting statement by 14th April 2024 at 23:59 BST

To be eligible for our September 2024 scholarship, you need to have filled in our form here by 14th April 2024 at 23:59 BST.

The statement needs to include:

- Your full name with which you applied
- Your Falmouth student ID (starting with 23 or 24)
- Confirmation you have received an offer from us
- A valid phone number we can contact you on
- A 500-word statement which includes:
- Your academic/professional achievements
- Your motivation for studying the course and your choice of Falmouth
- How the course will connect to your future career.
- The statement is not about why you need a scholarship
- Your agreement that the university can use your statement and details for marketing purposes, whether you are awarded a scholarship or not

All offer holders who have received an offer by 23:59 BST on 12th April 2024, sent in their supporting statement by 23:59 BST on 14th April 2024 and fall within the eligibility criteria will be considered for the award.

How it's awarded

For undergraduate courses, each award will be attributed based on the following criteria:

- Previous experience and potential outlined in the supporting statement.
- Interview performance if there is one (including a portfolio, presentation or performance where applicable), scored by the academic team.
- Full detail on the criteria to be assessed in the interview can be found on the course interview information pages on our website.

If you have applied, you can also login to the Applicant Portal where you can find a link to your interview invitation. For further information please email applicantsservices@falmouth.ac.uk

For postgraduate courses each academic department will attribute awards based on the following criteria:

- Previous experience and potential outlined in the supporting statement.
- Interview performance if there is one (including a portfolio, presentation or performance where applicable), scored by the academic team.

Full detail on the criteria to be assessed in the interview can be found on the course interview information pages on our website.

When will I know if I've been awarded the scholarship?

The International Student Recruitment team will inform successful applicants of outcomes:

- First round: by the 26th April 2024. Successful applicants will have until 10th May 2024 to accept their offer and the scholarship. It will otherwise be lost. Accepting an offer includes paying the acceptance fee (deposit) if one is requested.
- Second round (if some successful applicants from the first round have not accepted in time): by the 17th May 2024. Successful applicants will have until 31st May to accept their offer and the scholarship. It will otherwise be lost. Accepting an offer includes paying the acceptance fee (deposit) if one is requested.
- Third round (if some successful applicants from the first round have not accepted in time): by the 7th June 2024. Successful applicants will have until 21st June to accept their offer and the scholarship. It will otherwise be lost. Accepting an offer includes paying the acceptance fee (deposit) if one is requested.

Successful applicants will be contacted by phone, text and email, using the details as per the address that was provided in their application. Please ensure your phone number (including your country code) appears on your application.

Further information

As the university only has a limited number of scholarships available, we recommend you only make an application if you can afford tuition fees and living costs.

We do not offer full scholarships for September 2024 entry.

The International Talent Awards cannot be offered in combination with any other Falmouth university scholarships.
